

ANNOUNCEMENT: CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

DAAD - DIES NATIONAL MULTIPLICATION TRAINING ON ‘ENABLING INTERNATIONALISATION IN LIGHT OF THE 2020
POLICY FRAMEWORK FOR INTERNATIONALISATION OF HIGHER EDUCATION IN SOUTH AFRICA’

2022

The University of Venda and the University of the Free State are jointly organising a training course co-funded by the German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD)

‘ENABLING INTERNATIONALISATION IN LIGHT OF THE 2020 POLICY FRAMEWORK FOR INTERNATIONALISATION OF HIGHER EDUCATION IN SOUTH AFRICA’

What does the training course want to achieve?

The key objective of the training course is to empower higher education leaders and managers to leverage the 2020 Policy Framework for Internationalisation of Higher Education in South Africa in order to advance comprehensive internationalisation at their higher education institutions. The programme will enable higher education leaders and managers to ensure compliance with the quality standards and mandatory aspects of the 2020 Policy Framework for Internationalisation of Higher Education in South Africa, and it will assist them in developing innovative internationalisation strategies to leverage the opportunities afforded by the policy framework.

Course content and methodology

The programme consists of two workshops, as well as work on a specific project of internationalisation. The training course will methodologically focus on the practical aspects of comprehensive internationalisation. The participants will learn about ‘good practice’ examples and then apply the acquired knowledge at their home universities. Participants will be able to network and establish partnerships.

Each participant will develop and work on an internationalisation project that fits their position and institutional goals (e. g., strategic plan of HEI). This practice-oriented work will help them define specific and realistic goals, develop a roadmap, set their milestones, and record their tasks. The participants will be continuously advised by mentors and colleagues during the learning process to guarantee the most individually tailored training. Shortly after their selection, participants will receive preparatory reading and working materials, providing insight into conceptual issues. The literature study will also help them to reflect on the individual/institutional status quo and their specific projects.

Schedule

The following table shows the dates and venues for the project work and workshops (either as contact phases or, if necessary, online phase):

Phase	Place	Dates
Application	Home university	November-6 December 2021
Project work	Home university	January-February 2022
First workshop	Bloemfontein	1-3 March 2022
Project work	Home university	March-September 2022
Second workshop	Thohoyandou	6-8 September 2022
Project work	Home university	September-November 2022 Finalisation of the project

As the course workshops are interconnected, participants must participate in both workshops and report every two months on the progress of their projects. They need to complete written assignments before, between, and during the workshops. An institutional written commitment to actively participate in these activities and to complete the written assignments is mandatory.

Who can apply? (selection criteria, participant profile)

A total of 20 participants from all the public universities in South Africa will be selected.

Participant profile

- University leaders and managers responsible for internationalisation
- Deans
- Internationalisation managers and coordinators
- Academic internationalisation champions
- Directors of academic support services
- Internationalisation administrators.

The organisers are committed to ensuring diversity and gender balance among participants, provided that all other criteria are met.

Prerequisite for participation

The availability of technical equipment that guarantees regular contact during the distance phases:

- stable internet connection and, if possible,
- IT support for video conferences.

Funding and costs

DAAD finances the most significant part of the training course from funds provided by the German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ). However, co-funding from participants' home universities is expected.

DAAD funding

Each selected participant will receive financial support from DAAD. This financial support will cover the following expenses (according to DAAD regulations):

- 47 euros per day for accommodation during the physical phases in Bloemfontein and Thohoyandou
- Meals (usually breakfast and one additional meal) during the physical phases in Bloemfontein and Thohoyandou
- Local transportation from the hotel to the workshop venue

Expected co-funding:

Participants' home institutions are expected to cover

- travel expenses to the physical phases in Bloemfontein and Thohoyandou;
- an agreed budget for the internationalisation project described in the participant's application; and
- possible additional per diems for the duration of the workshops.

Application and selection procedure

Please note: We only accept participants who are fully COVID-19 vaccinated.

Application documents are:

1. Online application form.
2. Letter of support from the top management of the university (Rector or Vice-Chancellor/Vice-Rector or Deputy Vice-Chancellor), specifying
 - a. why the candidate was selected and if and how the university supports her/him to attend this course;
 - b. the relevance of his/her participation regarding the development of internationalisation or general strategy of the university;
 - c. institutional financial support (co-funding: fees and project costs);
 - d. support to attend both workshops (leave/travel permit, also for online workshops);
 - e. administrative and financial support to implement the project; and
 - f. institutional commitment that the appointed person will remain in his/her position until November 2022.
3. The organisational chart of the university (depicting the section in which the candidate works).
